CHILDHOOD CANCER AWARENESS

The men & women of the Los Angeles Police Department invite you to participate in the LAPD "Badges for Bandages" campaign to benefit children affected with cancer at the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles.

Children who receive cancer treatments are often put through inconceivable hardship, but something they always look forward to is receiving a colorful bandage to boost their spirits.

Join us in donating colorful children's bandages at donation bins located at each Area or in the front lobby of the Police Headquarters Facility.

We will be collecting Bandages from
November 1, 2014 - December 1, 2014
